

MEDICAL STUDENT MISTREATMENT

Washington University School of Medicine

Examples of Potential Mistreatment

- Publicly humiliated
- Threatened with physical harm
- Physically harmed (e.g., hit, slapped, kicked)
- Required to perform personal services (e.g., shopping, babysitting)
- Subjected to offensive sexist remarks/names
- Denied opportunities for training or rewards based solely on gender, race, sexual orientation or ethnicity
- Received lower evaluations or grades because of gender, race, sexual orientation or ethnicity rather than performance
- Subjected to unwanted sexual advances
- Asked to exchange sexual favors for grades or other rewards
- Subjected to racially or ethnically offensive remarks/names
- Subjected to offensive remarks/names related to sexual orientation

Mistreatment Policy

Reporting mechanisms

- Students are encouraged to report discuss specific incidents Deans Michael Awad, Lisa Moscoso or Alison Whelan.
- In addition, they may also discuss with course master, program directors, department chair, division directors, or another faculty member. The Deans above are resources for any faculty or other administrator who is contacted by a student.
- Students may report confidentially on Course Evaluations
- Students may report in real time via:

Washington University's Bias Report and Support system